

a partner you can trust

Your VentureTech Network Solution Provider

Ready to redefine the way you experience technology? Choose Hi-Link Computer Corp. as your technology solution provider. As a member of VentureTech Network (a North American organization of independent professional IT firms who focus on small to midsize businesses), we offer our customers unmatched geographic coverage and technical expertise, along with the purchasing power of a $2.5 billion organization. At the same time, we maintain the prompt and personalized service that you expect from a locally owned company. It's a winning combination that remains unequalled in the industry.

And our services are not only assured — they're certified. With direct access to more certified engineers, professionals and technicians than any other regional competitor, we can easily deploy resources to meet your needs anywhere in North America.

Our principal certifications⁽¹⁾ encompass multiple disciplines and numerous industry-leading manufacturers, including:
